1 About the Faculty of Arts

The McGill campus is an oasis in the heart of the business, cultural, and entertainment centres of downtown Montreal. At the centre of the downtown campus is the Arts Building, the oldest building on campus and the University's flagship. It houses classrooms, administrative offices, and Morse Hall, an elegant and superbly equipped theatre. For years, the front steps of the Arts Building have been a favourite spot to meet and to take a respite from the rigours of coursework. In addition to the Arts Building, the Faculty of Arts is housed in 22 other buildings across campus, including historic houses and former apartment buildings across campus.

The Faculty of Arts, the faculty that lies both literally and figuratively at the heart of the University, has enjoyed steady growth since it was established in 1843 and remains by far the largest faculty at McGill. The Faculty is home to 15 departments, professional schools, four institutes, and 10 centres, and has over 275 tenured or tenure-track scholars, 6,000 undergraduates, over 1,000 graduate students, and offers several hundred courses. Despite the numbers, the majority of classes are smaller than those offered by any other large research university in Canada. The humanities and social science disciplines that constitute the Faculty share a common endeavor to understand the human condition in order to improve it.

The Faculty maintains bilateral exchange programs with many universities around the world and encourages students to spend a term studying abroad, either through an exchange program or independently. Internships have also now become an integral part of an undergraduate degree. The Faculty of Arts Internship Office (AIO) assists students who wish to pursue short-term internship opportunities before completing their studies.

6.4 About Program Requirements

If you need 97 or more credits to complete your degree requirements (4-year degree), you are automatically registered in the Freshman program and are expected to select one of the Freshman program concentrations from the Selection Menu on Minerva. For more information, refer to www.mcgill.ca/oasis

If you need 96 or fewer credits to complete your B.A. degree requirements (3-year degree), you must select a program at the time of registration. You may select the Multi-track system, Honours program, Joint Honours program, or Faculty Program. For more information, please refer to the appropriate department: www.mcgill.ca/arts/departments if you are unsure of which program to select, contact a faculty adviser in Arts OASIS.

6.4.1 Freshman Program (Overview)

If you need 97-120 credits to complete your degree requirements, you must first complete the Freshman program, which is designed to provide a basic foundation prior to selecting a departmental program the following year. You may select one of the following Freshman program options on Minerva:

- General Option
- French Option

For further details, refer to the Arts Freshman information at www.mcgill.ca/oasis

6.4.1.1 Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) - Freshman Program - General (30 credits)

The Bachelor of Arts Freshman Program is designed to ensure that students have a broad foundation for the three-year degree program. It is comprised of 24-30 credits. In the General option, students develop their own program of study using courses from the social sciences, humanities, languages, and/or math and sciences.

This 30-credit option has a core requirement of 18 credits completed by selecting 6 credits in each of three of the subject categories: social sciences, humanities, languages, and/or mathematics and science. Students select 12 additional credits from courses for Freshman students based on their interests. A maximum of 18 credits may be taken in any one area and a maximum of 12 credits may be taken from the courses offered by any one department. For more information, see the Arts OASIS website for newly admitted Freshman students at: <http://www.mcgill.ca/oasis>.

Core Requirement (18 credits)

18 credits with 6 credits in each of three of the Arts categories: social sciences, humanities, languages, and mathematics and science.

The course lists below are organized by Arts category and include only courses approved by the offering department for Freshman (U0) students. Students may use these lists to plan their course selection.

A Major Concentration (36) + Minor Concentration (18) + 36 credits of electi

Definitions

- Minor Concentration: a program of 18 credits taken from a university's offerings. Expandable Minor Concentrations are those which can, on the course in which a D⁺ was received, credit for the first course will still be given, but as an elective. If you repeat a required course in which a D⁺ was received, credit will be given only once.

6.5.1 Course Prerequisites

The Faculty of Arts does not prevent you from registering for courses if you do not have the required prerequisites. However, if you lack the prerequisite course, you must consult with the instructor of the course you wish to take, to ensure that you have the necessary background. Please note that studies may not allow registration without the required prerequisite courses.

6.5.2 Course Overlap

You will not receive additional credit toward your degree for any course that overlaps in content with a course for which you have already received credit at McGill, CEGEP, or another university, or Advanced Placement, Advanced Level results, International Baccalaureate Diploma, or French Baccalaureate. It is your responsibility to consult with an adult adviser in Arts OASIS, the Science Office for Undergraduate Advising (SOUSA), or the department offering the course as to whether or not credit can be obtained and to be aware of exclusion clauses specified in the course description in this publication. Please refer to the following website for specific information about Advanced Standing credits and McGill course repetitions: www.mcgill.ca/students/amsfcredit

Sometimes the same course is offered by two different departments. Such courses are called "double-pre" courses. When such courses are offered simultaneously, you should take the course offered by the department in which you are obtaining your degree. For example, in the case of double-pre courses CHEM XYZ and PHYS XYZ, Chemistry students take CHEM XYZ and the Physics students take PHYS XYZ. If a double-pre course is offered by different departments in alternate years, you may wish to take the course best suited to your schedule.

Note for Arts Students: Credit for computer courses offered by the School of Computer Science is governed by rules specified in each individual course description.

Note for Science and Bachelor of Arts and Science students

Credit for statistics courses offered by faculties other than Arts and Science requires the permission of the Director of Advising Services, Science, except for students in the B.Sc. Major in Environment, who may take required statistics courses in the Faculty of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences necessary to satisfy their program requirements.

Credit for computer courses offered by faculties other than Science requires the permission of the Director of Advising Services and will be granted only under exceptional circumstances.

For Arts, Science, and Bachelor of Arts and Science students

For a detailed description of advising and registration procedures, you should refer to the website for newly admitted undergraduate students, the Arts OASIS website and your department's website.

If you need 97-120 credits to complete your degree requirements, you will normally be registered in a Freshman program until you complete your first year. You must consult with a faculty adviser in Arts OASIS to obtain advice and approval of your course selection. For a detailed description of advising and registration procedures as a Freshman student, refer to University Regulations and Resources > Undergraduate > Registration and: Undergraduate Advising the newly admitted undergraduate students website and the Arts OASIS website.

9 Overview of Programs Offered

9.1 Programs in the Faculty of Arts

The Faculty of Arts offers programs leading to the degrees of B.A., B.S. and B.Th. Admission is selective; fulfillment of the minimum requirements does not guarantee acceptance. Admission criteria are described in the Undergraduate Admissions Guide found at www.mcgill.ca/applying.

The Faculty of Arts also offers a Diploma in Environment under the McGill School of Environment; a 30-credit program is available to holders of a B.Sc. or B.A. or equivalent. All credits for the Diploma must be completed at McGill. For more information, see McGill School of Environment > Undergraduate > Browse Academic Programs > Diploma in Environment.

The Faculties of Arts and of Science jointly offer programs leading to the degree of the Bachelor of Arts and Science (B.A. & Sc.), which is described in Bachelor of Arts and Science.

9.2 The Degrees Offered

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree integrates the Humanities, Social Sciences, Languages, and a wide range of Interdisciplinary Studies into a coherent academic program. It is as broad and comprehensive in scope as is human behaviour and communication. Students interested in gaining insight into how society works and how people expressed themselves in the past, how society works and how people express themselves today and what we may look for in the future, pursue a B.A. degree.

Students interested in the traditional and vanguard are equally at home in the Faculty of Arts. The B.A. is a degree that allows students to appreciate the interdisciplinary connections with the past in order to understand the present and prepare for a promising future. The B.A. leads to a wide range of opportunities in many fields, especially those that emphasize critical thinking.

The Faculty of Arts at McGill is especially proud of its major and minor concentration programs as the multi-track system. The multi-track system encourages flexibility, independence, and knowledge in a diversity of disciplines. It provides students with an unprecedented opportunity to tailor a unique academic profile suited to their specific interests and career ambitions. Students have the option of doing minor concentrations in other faculties.

The Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.), an undergraduate program of professional studies, is offered through the School of Social Work \(SWRK\) (Section 10.38). In addition to the standard three-year B.S.W. program, the School offers a two-year program for students who already have an undergraduate degree in another discipline.

The B.S.W program is designed to provide an academic environment within which students will develop integrated social work knowledge pertaining to its history, theoretical foundations, research base, practice modalities and policies that influence the health and social services; professional skills in the well-established methods of practice; an understanding of social inequality in Canada; an awareness of the various dimensions of diversity and how they intersect in an increasingly heterogeneous society; and a sense of identity with the profession of social work.

The Bachelor of Theology (B.Th.) degree is offered through the School of Religion and Theology (REL). The B.Th. program is designed primarily for those who intend to qualify for the ordained ministry in a Christian denomination, although here too, some students pursue the degree out of an interest in the academic study of theology for its own sake, or with a view to combining these studies with professional training gained in other disciplines.

The Bachelor of Arts & Science (B.A. & Sc.) is an interdisciplinary degree intended for students who want to pursue simultaneously a program offered by the Faculty of Arts and one offered by the Faculty of Science or a program offered jointly by both faculties.

The central objective of the B.A. & Sc. is to provide students with a broad education that includes in-depth study of disciplines in both faculties. The degree gives students a unique opportunity to acquire a diverse knowledge base, to gain competence in different methods of scholarship, to hone intellectual flexibility, and to integrate material across disciplines.

By choosing their programs appropriately, students who obtain a B.A. & Sc. are well prepared to pursue graduate or postgraduate studies, in a wide variety of fields. The varied intellectual skills they have developed render them extremely attractive candidates for potential employers, for professional programs in fields such as business, law, and medicine, and for graduate programs in traditional and interdisciplinary departments. Please refer to the Bachelor of Arts and Science section for further information.

10.4.2 About Anthropology

The Honours program and Major Concentration in Anthropology emphasize the similarity and diversity of human behaviour; understanding of social and cultural systems; and the processes of socio-cultural change from human origins to the present. In addition, the Department concentrates on the fields of Archaeology and Socio-Cultural Anthropology.

Our programs serve as a useful background for those who are planning a career in teaching and research in social sciences and humanities, or a career in law, medicine, foreign service, community organization, public administration, and journalism. The Multi-track Major and Minor Concentrations provide students with a solid grounding in anthropology as a whole, or in selected topical or sub-disciplinary areas, which allows students to follow programs in other departments that suit their needs and interests. The Honours program provides a greater focus on anthropology with substantial breadth and depth. The completion of an Honours program is an asset when applying to graduate or professional schools.

Students interested in Joint Honours should consult an adviser in the other department for specific course requirements to be supplied by the Anthropology Department to keep track of courses required by both departments for the programs selected.

Students who wish to study at the Honours level in two disciplines can combine the Joint Honours Program component Anthropology with one in another Arts discipline.

The Joint Honours thesis topic should be arranged by consultation with an adviser in Anthropology and the other discipline, and supervisors should be appointed in each department who will work together to guide the student.

Joint Honours students must maintain a CGP of 3.50 in their program courses and, according to faculty regulations, a minimum CGP of 3.00 in general.

Required Course (3 credits)

The Joint Honours thesis should be determined in consultation with advisers from both Joint Honours components programs, should total 6 credits of coursework with 3 credits applying to each Joint Honours component.

All students who wish to begin (or continue) the Major Concentration Economics should see a majors adviser in the Department of Economics in each of their university years. Further information may be obtained from the Department's website, or from a major's adviser; consult the Departmental Office for a list of advisers and their advising times.

Students who are registering for the first time with the Department should attend the orientation meeting in August (check the website for details) before seeing an adviser.

A student choosing the Major Concentration Economics must take 36 credits in Economics. The Economics courses will normally be taken at McGill and will be selected from the courses shown below. Major Concentration in Economics students entering university at the U1 year in September should directly proceed to ECON 230D1/ECON 230D2 without taking ECON 208 and ECON 209.

Note: Students who wish to switch from the Major Concentration to Honours Economics must complete all the requirements of the Honours program.

Mathematics: Mastery of high school mathematics is required for all economics courses.

Prerequisites: In general, 200-level courses have no prerequisites and 300-level and 400-level courses have ECON 230D1/ECON 230D2 or ECON 250D1/ECON 250D2 (or ECON 208 and ECON 209, or MGCR 293 and ECON 295) as prerequisites. In addition, 400-level courses have Calculus 1 (or its equivalent) or a course in mathematical techniques for economic analysis (or its equivalent) as a prerequisite.

Required Courses (18 credits)

All students must take 6 credits of approved statistics courses. Students should refer to the Department's document "Rules on Stats Courses for Economics Students" available at: <http://www.mcgill.ca/economics/undergraduates/courses/>.

10.10.6 Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) - Honours Economics (42 credits)

The Honours Economics program (B.A. and B.Com.) consists of 30 specified credits of Honours courses and a further 12 credits of approved courses.

Continuation in the Honours program from one year to the next requires a minimum grade of B- in ECON 250 and a minimum average in required and complementary Honours economics courses. Students failing to meet these requirements must switch out of the Honours program. If a student registers in Honours, they will not be allowed to graduate with Honours. Note that graduation with Honours has more stringent requirements than these.

To be awarded an Honours degree, a student must obtain a 3.00 average in the required/core courses, a 3.00 average in the required and complementary credits in Economics, and a CGPA of 3.00. For a First Class Honours degree, the minimum requirements are a 3.50 program average in the required courses, a 3.50 average in the required and complementary credits in Economics, and a CGPA of 3.50. Students also have to meet the requirements of the Faculty of Arts for Honours and First Class Honours. In cases where a student takes a Supplemental Exam in a course, both the original and the Supplemental Exam grades will be counted in the calculation of the SGPA and CGPA averages.

All Honours students are required to see an Honours advisor and also consult the Honours and Joint Honours programs on the Department's website: <http://www.mcgill.ca/economics/undergraduates/honours/>. For the current list of advisers in Economics and their advising times, see the Department of Economics' website.

10.13.11 Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) - Major Concentration English - Cultural Studies (36 credits)

The Cultural Studies option concentrates on analysis of forms of cultural expression and symbolic interaction, and of various media through which these may be disseminated and transformed. Such study concerns symbolic form, aesthetically based forms of analysis and theories of criticism and theory relevant to media which contain both verbal and non-verbal elements. The aim is above all to hone students' analytical and interpretive skills while introducing them to specific critical approaches to cultural studies. This is not a major in journalism or communications; and while many of our graduates go on to do creative work in a variety of media, instruction in film and video production is not part of the curriculum.

Students are normally permitted to count 6 credits from other departments toward their English programs. In exceptional circumstances, an adviser who is approached by a student with strong academic grounds for including a third such course may grant permission (to a maximum of three departmental credits) and must so indicate in advance by signing the departmental program audit sheet.

10.13.12 Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) - Honours English - Literature (60 credits)

Entry to Honours is by application, normally after one term in a Departmental program, including at least 18 credits of English. This Faculty of Arts requires that all students admitted to Honours programs complete a second program minor in addition to their Honours program.

The minimum CGPA for application to the Honours program is 3.50; students meeting the 3.50 minimum in English Department courses alone (although not necessarily) may apply and make a case for their acceptance. In neither instance is admission guaranteed. After admission into the Honours program, the student is required to maintain a CGPA level set by the Faculty for graduation with Honours and a program level set by the Department.

Students are normally permitted to count 6 credits from other departments toward their English programs. In exceptional circumstances, an adviser approached by a student with strong academic grounds for including a third such course, may grant permission, to a maximum of one additional credit, and must so indicate in advance by signing the departmental program audit sheet.

This list comprises courses in other departments that might be accepted by an adviser toward the student's Drama and Theatre program. This list applies only to these courses as they are offered in the current academic year.

There might be other courses in the Faculty of Arts for which a student could receive Drama and Theatre program credit. A student who has identified a course not noted below should show their program adviser the course syllabus in advance and, if he or she agrees, get the adviser's initials on the course on their program audit sheet. The Department requires a complete signed audit sheet in the student's file in order to process the file for graduation.

completed in English. There are normally two possible application dates for Joint Honours in English: either by the end of January (by which time first-term courses are completed and the grades available), or at the same time as the Honours application date, typically in mid-April. (Only students who will have completed more than 18 credits in English by the end of January may apply.) Applications will be considered by the Department's Honours Committee on the basis of the student's program and a minimum of 3.50. The application form is available in the Department's General Office (Arts 155), and the specific submission requirements are described by that form.

The maintenance of a 3.50 program average is required for continuation in Joint Honours. Graduation with Joint Honours requires a minimum program average of 3.50, a minimum program GPA of 3.50, and a minimum mark of B+ on the Honours Essay. Graduation with First Class Joint Honours in English requires a minimum program average of 3.50, a minimum program GPA of 3.70, and a minimum mark of A on the Honours Essay.

Each academic year there is a special adviser for Joint Honours students, and the receptionist in the General Office can provide the name and contact information. The Department's website <http://www.mcgill.ca/english/> provides additional information on the Joint Honours program and applications, and this website should also be consulted prior to contacting an adviser.

10.18.4 Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) - Minor Concentration Gender, Sexuality, Feminist, & Social Justice Studies (18 credits)

The Minor Concentration in Gender, Sexuality, Feminist, & Social Justice Studies (GSFS) is an interdisciplinary program that centrally engages contemporary and historical issues centered on gender, sexuality, feminism, and social justice. The program provides students with opportunities to explore the meaning and intersections of such categories as gender, race, class, sexual orientation, age, ability, citizenship, and national identity, for example, and to examine how such categories might inform and reproduce power relationships.

10.18.7 Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) - Joint Honours Gender, Sexuality, Feminist, & Social Justice Studies (36 credits)

The Joint Honours program offers a significant degree of analysis and depth of study into contemporary and historical critical issues centered on gender sexuality, feminism, and social justice and the Major through required and complementary courses, intensive research, and seminars. The program enables students to explore the meanings and intersections of such categories as gender, race, class, sexual identification, age, ability, citizenship, and national identity, for example, and to examine how such categories might inform and reproduce power relationships. The Joint Honours program culminates in the completion of an Honours thesis, supervised by a faculty member whose approval is sought the year prior. The Colloquium requires supplemental reading and writing assignments, training in research and thesis writing methods, presentation to the group of theses in progress, and responses to the work.

10.19.8 Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) - Minor Concentration Health Geography (18 credits)

There is increasing consensus around the idea that health is not just a function of individual characteristics but an interaction between the characteristics of the individual and the environments, both physical and social, to which one is exposed over a lifetime of daily living and working. Health outcomes vary dramatically by physical and social characteristics of places both within and between countries and this knowledge for our understanding of the factors that might be modified to improve the health of large groups of people. The B.A.; Minor Concentration in Health Geography introduces students to both local and global health issues and provides a skill set in spatial and statistical analyses of health outcomes in populations.

10.22.2 About the Institute for the Study of Canada

Established in 1994 thanks to an innovative agreement between the Bronfman family and McGill University, the McGill Institute for the Study of Canada (MISC) runs an academic program at McGill University, supports an active research environment, and organizes a variety of large-scale, public events on matters of interest to Canadians, including MISC Social Conferences, which attract a great deal of attention from publishers, media, and the general public. While the Institute itself is non-partisan, MISC is no stranger to debate and controversy.

Our programs provide interdisciplinary courses on Canada and create the study of Canada in different departments throughout the Faculty of Arts at McGill. We explore Canada from all scholarly angles and we welcome every point of view. We mediate between the public activities of the McGill Institute for the Study of Canada and students, to whom we offer special invitation to attend MISC events. We work closely with partner departments to ensure that students receive exposure to rigorous disciplines and methods and to innovative new media and techniques for expression and exploration. Distinguished visiting lecturers and guest speakers and singers and dancers, as well as opportunities for student exchange and internships, expose our students to the full range of geographical, political, cultural, and social diversity of this country. Students are also encouraged to attend congresses of Canadian Studies and to publish in our student-run journal. Our graduates go on to careers in government, law, business, education, social service, media and journalism, and graduate work in the social sciences and humanities.

For more information, see the Institute website.

10.23.6 Liberal Arts

10.23.6.1 About Liberal Arts

The Liberal Arts program represents a contemporary approach to the traditional concept of a broad, non-specialized education in the humanities that is tailored to the environment of a research-intensive university. The program recognizes the value of a classical liberal arts education, yet approaches the liberal arts from a global perspective, emphasizing diversity and difference, and providing new ways of engaging the liberal arts.

The program exposes students to texts from, and histories of, a wide range of cultures and societies. Students will be able to choose from three intellectual streams:

- Literature and the arts (including theatre and architecture)
- History, culture, and society
- Philosophy and religion

Students will be expected to satisfy distribution requirements across geographic regions of the world and historical periods.

Students in the program will also be required to have a working knowledge of, and take courses in, a language other than English. Students who are native speakers of a language other than English will be strongly encouraged to take a working knowledge of, and take courses in, a third language.

The Liberal Arts program is designed to provide students with tools for critical inquiry and effective communication skills. It affirms in an innovative way the Faculty of Arts' commitment to the humanities and its core mission to foster cross-disciplinary perspectives and engaged communities; and critical thinking.

10.23.9 Quebec Studies/ études sur le Québec (QCST)

10.23.9.1 Généralités : études sur le Québec

Le Programme d'études sur le Québec favorise la recherche et la formation multidisciplinaires en études québécoises.

Avec l'appui des départements, la concentration Mineur et la concentration Majeur en études sur le Québec sont constituées l'une et l'autre d'une suite agencée de cours ayant pour but de fournir un enseignement interdisciplinaire aussi complet que possible sur la société québécoise. L'intérieur d'un cadre canadien et international.

Sauf les cours Introduction to the Study of Quebec (QCST 200), Quebec Culture and Society (QCST 300) dirigés (QCST 472D1/QCST 472D2) et le séminaire Contemporary Issues in Quebec (QCST 440), les cours compris dans la concentration Majeur ou la concentration Mineur sont sous la responsabilité des départements. Pour connaître la description de ces cours et, le cas échéant, les conditions d'admission, l'étudiant(e) est donc invité(e) à se reporter aux autres sections de cette publication et, au besoin, consulter les départements concernés, d'autant plus que tous les cours ne se donnent pas annuellement. Veuillez noter que les conseillers pédagogiques ou les directeurs de programmes ne peuvent pas garantir l'inscription à un cours sans toutefois imposer ce choix. La décision finale de l'étudiant(e) en ce qui concerne l'inscription à un cours en autant que l'étudiant(e) répond aux conditions d'admission pour ce cours.

Le titre de chaque cours indique s'il est donné en français ou en anglais, mais les programmes peuvent toujours être dirigés dans l'une ou l'autre de ces deux langues (sauf au Département de langue et littérature françaises, où le français est de rigueur).

10.23.9.2 About Quebec Studies

The Quebec Studies program is intended to stimulate interdisciplinary studies and research centering on Quebec society

With departmental support, a major concentration and a minor concentration are offered, both of which consist of a coherent series of courses providing an interdisciplinary perspective on Quebec society in a Canadian and an international context.

Except for the general courses Introduction to the Study of Quebec (QCST 200), Quebec Culture and Society (QCST 400), (QCST 472D1/QCST 472D2), and the seminar Contemporary Issues in Quebec (QCST 440), courses included in the Major Concentration or Minor Concentration are the responsibility of the departments. To obtain a complete description of these courses and the admission requirements (where applicable), students should read the relevant sections of the eCalendar and, if necessary, consult with the departments concerned, bearing in mind that not all courses are available in any given year. Please take note that an adviser or a director of a program can recommend a student in a course without imposing this choice. The final decision belongs to the student if the student has successfully completed the course prerequisites.

The title of each course indicates whether it is given in French or English. All term papers and exams can be written in either of these two languages (except in the French Language and Literature Department, where French is mandatory).

Further information for new and returning students is available at www.mcgill.ca/qcst

Experience has shown that development requires economic growth and is shaped by the distribution of economic resources. At the same time, the globalized economy has created new opportunities and new challenges for sustained growth. Courses in this stream revolve around the factors contributing to sustained economic growth, the trade-offs associated with different ways of achieving it, and the distributional issues development inevitably raises. The courses in this stream focus on the social structures, history and culture of populations and developmental processes. Associations, class, gender, religion, race, and ethnicity, for example, all shape development in multiple and diverse ways. Moreover, present developmental processes oftentimes cannot be adequately understood without considering history. Culture, in turn, is increasingly recognized within development studies as both a determinant and a constitutive element of development. In exploring all three, the courses in this stream provide important insight into the complex and varied relationship

Stream 4: Environment and Agricultural Resources

Within development studies, the environment has long been recognized as a vital determinant of development. More recently, many scholars have changed their environmental focus to emphasize sustainability. The courses in this stream recognize both: some courses consider how the environment can be exploited to promote human well-being while others consider how the environment must be respected to render development sustainable. Together they highlight the delicate balance that must be attained between humans and environments to maximize possible sustainable livelihoods.

Stream 4: Environment and Agricultural Resources

Within development studies, the environment has long been recognized as a vital determinant of development. More recently, many scholars have changed their environmental focus to emphasize sustainability. The courses in this stream recognize both: some courses consider how the environment can be exploited to promote human well-being while others consider how the environment must be respected to render development sustainable. Together, they highlight the delicate balance that must be attained between humans and their environment.

10.27.2 About Languages, Literatures, and Cultures

The Department of Languages, Literatures, and Cultures is dedicated to fostering a critical understanding of European and Latin American cultures in a global context. To this end, we offer programs in:

- section 10.27.3 European Literature and Culture
- section 10.27.4 German Studies
- section 10.27.5 Hispanic Studies
- section 10.27.6 Italian Studies
- section 10.27.7 Russian and Slavic Studies

These programs immerse students in the study of specific languages, literatures, thought, cinemas, cultures, and national traditions while encouraging transnational approaches and cultural plurality. In addition, we offer a selection of courses that are not specific to just one language or culture, including Film, eco-criticism, literary theory, book history and digital humanities.

In terms of undergraduate studies, we seek to broaden students' cultural arts background. Our goal is to enable our undergraduates to develop communicative skills in at least one target language and to provide critical tools to understand the complexities of other cultural traditions. The skills acquired are valuable for careers in business, government, the media, cultural and literary fields, and numerous other professions.

Graduate Studies

We are committed to international standards of excellence in graduate student training; our graduate programs in German, Hispanic, Italian, and Russian Studies offer a vibrant research environment combining the rigour of traditional philological inquiry with a range of other theoretical and methodological approaches, many of them informed and/or creatively challenged by broader transnational and interdisciplinary perspectives.

Students who envision graduate studies upon completion of the B.A. are strongly advised to pursue an honours or joint honours program (Honours students must submit their thesis by March 15). Although the Major and Minor concentrations form an important part of the multi-track B.A., this general degree does not provide the specialized training called for by most graduate programs in the humanities and social sciences.

Undergraduate Advising

Students may need to obtain Departmental approval to register for language courses and are strongly advised to consult with the Department for advice/approval of their program plans. A placement test is available and may be booked before the start of term with the Language Adviser of the respective area of study. Please see the Program Advising section of our website under www.mcgill.ca/langlitcultures/contact.

Students may begin at the intermediate or advanced level in their first year if they have taken approved courses in high school, CEGEP through McGill Summer Studies. Please consult with our advisers for more information.

The Department of Languages, Literatures, and Cultures offers undergraduate programs and concentrations which permit students to pursue a variety of intellectual and pre-professional options.

10.27.3 European Literature and Culture

The Minor Concentration in European Literature and Culture provides students with a broad foundation for understanding the development and interconnectedness of European culture, and its role for the comprehension of today's world through the study of literature and the arts from the Middle Ages to modern times. Knowledge of a language other than English is not required to complete the program.

10.27.29 Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) - Joint Honours Component Russian (36 credits)

Students wishing to study at the Honours level in two disciplines can combine Joint Honours program components in two Arts disciplines. For a list of available Joint Honours programs, see "Overview of Programs Offered" and "Joint Honours Programs".

Prior to registering for each Joint Honours component, students should consult an adviser in each department for appropriate course selection and their interdisciplinary research project (if applicable). Twelve credits in Russian and 12 credits in the cooperating department are normally taken year

According to faculty regulations, Joint Honours students must maintain a minimum GPA of 3.00 and maintain a minimum program GPA of 3.00. Departments may require a higher program GPA. Joint Honours students must meet the requirements of both components of their program.

The specific course requirements for the 36-credit Joint Honours Component Russian program are determined on an individual basis in consultation with the student's program adviser(s).

Prior to registering for each Joint Honours component, students must see advisers in the respective departments for approval of their selection. Departmental advisers will only approve combinations that are feasible given the nature of the research project that will be involved. Students who neglect to obtain prior approval may jeopardize their graduation.

The Linguistics department offers a minor concentration, a major concentration, an honours program, and a joint honours program with other departments in the Faculty of Arts.

10.28.3 New Students

Students who are registering with the Department for the first time must attend the Department orientation meeting before seeing an adviser; further information is available at www.mcgill.ca/linguistics/undergraduate

10.28.4 Requirements

Linguistics students must do at least two-thirds of their Linguistics courses at McGill. Honours students must also do their Honours thesis at McGill. Inquiries may be addressed to the Departmental Office of Advises for undergraduate studies

10.30.8 Bachelor of Science (B.Sc.) - Honours Applied Mathematics (60 credits)

Applied Mathematics is a very broad field and students are encouraged to choose a coherent program of complementary courses. Most students specialize in "continuous" or "discrete" applied mathematics, but there are many sensible combinations of courses, and the following informal guidelines should be discussed with the student's advisor. Also, aside from seeking to develop a sound basis in Applied Mathematics, one of the objectives of the program is to kindle the student's interest in possible areas of application. To develop an appreciation of the diversity of Applied Mathematics, students are advised to develop some depth (e.g., by completing a minor) in a field related to Applied Mathematics such as Atmospheric and Oceanic Sciences, Biology, Biochemistry, Chemistry, Computer Science, Earth and Planetary Sciences, Economics, Engineering, Management, Physics, Physiology, and Psychology.

10.31.2 About Music Programs in Arts

Available within the Faculty of Arts are a major and a minor concentration in Music.

Arts students may also apply to the other music minors (Music Composition; Music Education; Music History; Music Musical Applications of Technology; and Musical Science and Technology) as long as they have the necessary music prerequisites.

These programs are intended for students who have at least high school matriculation or the equivalent. Students without the formal music prerequisites must speak with a Music Adviser prior to registration. Visit the Music Program website for more information.

B.A. students should consult with Arts OASIS Adviser and the B.A. Music Adviser to ensure that they have the necessary prerequisites prior to applying to the music program. Arts students may be advised to write placement examinations in music theory, music history, musicianship, and/or keyboard proficiency before they begin the music programs.

Admission to the B.A. program is granted according to criteria established by the Faculty of Arts. For more information, see:

- section 10.31.7 Bachelor of Arts \(B.A.\) - Major Concentration Music \(36 credits\)

Undergraduate students interested in a more intensive music program, including practical instruction on an instrument and additional ensemble participation, should consider the Bachelor of Music (B.Mus.) or the Licentiate program (L.Mus.) offered by the Schulich School of Music; see Schulich School of Music > Undergraduate > Overview of Programs > Degrees and Diplomas Offered

10.31.3 Music Ensembles

All McGill students enrolled in a degree program may audition for a variety of ensembles offered through the Schulich School of Music. The majority of the ensemble auditions take place only once a year, generally during the first week of September. If you pass the audition, you may participate in the assigned ensemble(s). Consult with your home faculty adviser to determine if you may apply the ensemble credits toward your degree. The schedule and requirements for ensemble auditions are available on the Ensemble website.

10.32.2 About Philosophy

Broadly speaking, the principal aim of philosophy is to increase our understanding of ourselves, the world, and our place in it. Philosophy differs from the empirical and social sciences in important respects. Its areas of philosophy are characterized by the questions they address. For example:

- Epistemology inquires into the nature of knowledge;
- Metaphysics is concerned with the fundamental nature of being and of the types of things that it contains;
- Ethics investigates the nature of moral judgment and moral reasoning;
- Political Philosophy examines such matters as justice, freedom, rights, democracy and power;
- Logic is broadly the analysis of the structure of correct reasoning.

In addition, there are the various "Philosophies of": e.g., Philosophy of Science, Philosophy of Language, Philosophy of Mind, and Philosophy of Religion.

Some of the courses in the Department are devoted to these specific areas of philosophy, each exploring one or several ways of construing and answering the questions it poses. Other courses explore some period or individual figure in the history of philosophy, approaching philosophical questions through the work of past thinkers, and often exploring connections between the different areas of philosophy.

The discipline of Philosophy as a particular way of thinking, emphasizes clarity in expression, both written and oral, and rigorous argument. Philosophical questions are intriguing and complex and so philosophical method stresses thoroughness and intellectual generosity. The willingness and ability to grasp another's arguments and respond to them.

The Department requires that all students in the Honours and Joint Honours programs complete a 3-credit course (PHIL 301), the principal aim of which is to equip students with the distinctive philosophical skills required for advanced work in the field. The course is not available to students in the Major or Minor programs.

The B.A. in Philosophy is not a professional qualification. It prepares students for graduate work in philosophy and for study in other disciplines, e.g., Law. As the interdisciplinary discipline par excellence, philosophy also maintains and encourages ties with other fields, so that students will find that certain classes in philosophy are directly relevant to their major area of study. The Department has a strong commitment to providing an intense

10.34.7 Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) - Honours Psychology (60 credits)

Honours Psychology prepares students for graduate study and also emphasizes practice in the research techniques which are used in graduate school and professionally later on. Students are normally accepted into Honours at the end of their U2 year and the two-year sequence of Honours courses continues through U3.

Admission to Honours is selective. Students with a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 or better are eligible to apply; since enrolment is limited the usual GPA for admission to this program is 3.50. Students must complete a minimum of 27 graded credits in their U1 year to be eligible to apply to the Honours program. These credits must include: PSYC 204, PSYC 211, PSYC 212, PSYC 213, and PSYC 215. Students are advised to complete PSYC 305 in their U1 year to apply to the Honours program. Once in the Honours program, the student must obtain a CGPA of 3.00 in the U2 year in order to continue in the program for U3. Students in the Honours program are encouraged to complete a minimum of 27 graded credits per academic year also the minimum number of credits required to be eligible for fellowships and awards.

The application is available on the Psychology Dept website at:

<http://www.mcgill.ca/psychology/undergraduate/current-students/research-opportunities/research-credits>. The deadline is specified on the application form. Candidates will be informed of the Department's decision via email before classes begin in September.

Students should note that awarding of the Honours degree will depend on both cumulative grade point average and a minimum grade of B on PSYC 380D1/PSYC 380D2, PSYC 482. "First Class Honours" is awarded to students who obtain a minimum CGPA of 3.50 and a minimum grade of A in the required honours courses, namely PSYC 380D1/PSYC 380D2, PSYC 482. "Honours" is awarded to students with a minimum CGPA of 3.00 and a minimum grade of B in the required honours courses, namely PSYC 380D1/PSYC 380D2, PSYC 482. Moreover, awarding of the Honours degree normally requires completion of two full years of study, U2 and U3, in the Honours program in the Psychology Department. Students with particularly strong academic records

10.35.2 About the School of Religious Studies

Cultivating a thorough understanding of the world's religions and the roles of religion throughout history and in contemporary society is at the heart of the School of Religious Studies. Teaching at the undergraduate level, the School takes a multidisciplinary approach to scholarship on a plurality of religions and incorporates a broad range of perspectives and methods. In studying the world's religious traditions, we emphasize the ways in which religious expression and practices are embedded in culture, politics, aesthetics, and social change.

The School of Religious Studies has enjoyed a long history at McGill providing a wide range of programs, including B.A. programs, theological programs, and several specialized graduate degree programs. The School's expertise in world religions engages many methods and disciplines, combining the rigorous and historically focused study of religious traditions and customs with approaches that explore contemporary expressions of religions. For more on the Faculty's distinctive, holistic approach to the study of religion, please Visit Us.

The School is home to the Centre for Research on Religion (CREOR) and the Initiative in Globalization and the World's Religions. It is also affiliated with the Montreal Diocesan Theological College of the Anglican Church of Canada, the Presbyterian College of Montreal, and the United Theological College of the United Church of Canada. Each of these colleges is located close to campus.

The School of Religious Studies is located in the handsome William and Henry Birks Building, erected in 1931, formerly known as Divinity Hall, at 3520 University Street. Besides the usual classrooms, offices, and common rooms, this building also accommodates the Birks Heritage Chapel and the Birks Reading Room.

History of the School

During the 19th century, several Theological Colleges in Montreal became affiliated with McGill. In 1912, they formed a Joint Board for the academic study of Theology leaving each denominational College to provide its own professional training for Christian ministry. This relationship between the Colleges and the University led naturally to the creation in 1948 of the Faculty of Divinity, which assumed the academic functions of the Joint Board and designated the Montreal School of Theology. In 1970, the name of the Faculty was changed to the Faculty of Religious Studies.

By reason of its close collaboration with the Faculty of Arts, the faculty formally became the School of Religious Studies, within the Faculty of Arts, in 2016. The School now offers the Bachelor of Theology (B.Th.) degree, Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree programs, and several graduate degree programs.

10.35.3 Religious Studies Programs

The School of Religious Studies offers programs leading to the following degrees:

- section 10.35.6 Bachelor of Arts \(B.A.\) in Religious Studies
- section 10.35.7 Bachelor of Theology \(B.Th.\)
- section 10.35.8 Master of Divinity \(M.Div\)

Prospective students seeking advice should contact an adviser from the School of Religious Studies.

10.35.4 Birks Lectures

An annual series was established in 1950 through the generosity of the William M. Birks. The lectures are given by distinguished visitors, usually in late September or early October.

10.35.5 Numata Visiting Professor in Buddhist Studies

In recognition of the strong Buddhist Studies program in the School of Religious Studies, the Numata Foundation has given a 20-year grant to the School to bring a visiting scholar in Buddhist Studies to McGill each year.

The visiting professor teaches one course at the 500 level, gives a public lecture, and is available to students for conferences and consultation.

The visiting professor for 2017±2018 is Gae Samuel.

10.35.6 Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Religious Studies

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Religious Studies programs explore the many cultural, historical, and political issues related to both Eastern and Western religions, and to religion in a comparative perspective. Majors and minors in World Religions are available, as well as a minor in Religion and Globalization and honours and joint honours programs in Religious Studies. Students frequently combine majors and minors in World Religions with a wide range of other B.A. concentrations, highlighting the importance of the rigorous study of religion to other areas of inquiry.

A distinctive strength of the School offerings is the Major Concentration in Scriptures and Interpretations, which allows for a concentration on a particular scriptural tradition (Jewish, Christian, or Hindu and Buddhist scriptures); the Minor Concentration in Scriptural Languages supports all these concentrations by providing intensive study of either Indo-Tibetan languages or Biblical Languages.

Stream II - Indo-Tibetan Languages

Sanskrit is the language of classical Indian civilization and is recommended for students interested in gaining access to religious texts, philosophical works, academic treatises on all subjects, and poetry written in classical and vernacular.

Classical Tibetan is one of the main scriptural languages of Buddhism. Many originally composed in Sanskrit are only available in their Tibetan translations, and a vast body of philosophical, devotional, poetic and academic works composed in Classical Tibetan is only accessible to one who has a firm grasp of the language.

Tamil is a language spoken by over 75,000,000 people around the world. It is an ancient South Indian language that, like Sanskrit, has a vital living tradition. It has a classical literary canon and yet is also part of the daily lives of millions of people.

10.35.19 Bachelor of Theology (B.Th.) - Religious Studies (120 credits)

Revision, May 2017. Start of revision.

The Bachelor of Theology (B.Th.) degree requires 120 credits. Most students enter the program with advanced standing, and their credit requirement for the degree is adjusted accordingly

All students must discuss their course selection with their program adviser

The required and complementary course requirements describe the program for students who enter Year 0 (U0).

Students who enter Year 1 (U1) with 30 credits of advanced standing based on a Quebec Diploma of College Studies (DEC) are exempt from taking RELG 203 Bible and Western Culture and RELG 207 The Study of World Religions 1.

Students admitted on the basis of a bachelorette will have advanced standing and should consult their program adviser to determine course equivalencies completed during their first year and how these affect their program requirements for the Bachelor of Theology. Normally, these students start Year 2 (U2) and are exempt from taking RELG 203 Bible and Western Culture, RELG 207 The Study of World Religions 1, RELG 204 Judaism, Christianity & Islam, RELG 210 Jesus of Nazareth, and RELG 334 Christian Thought and Culture.

The normal course load in the degree for full-time students is 15 credits per term or 30 credit courses.

By permission of the Chair of the B.Th. Committee, students may also enroll for courses elsewhere in the province of Quebec. For further information, see University Regulations and Resources > Registration > Quebec Inter-University Transfer Agreement > Quebec Inter-University Transfer Agreement: McGill Students.

Professional and vocational courses (e.g., leading to ordination) available through the In-Ministry Year (Master of Divinity (M.Div.)) upon the completion of the B.Th. degree.

10.38.2 About Social Work

The School of SocialWork offers an undergraduate program leading to a Bachelor of SocialWork (B.S.W) degree. The B.S.W program:

1. prepares students for generalist socialwork practice in a range of health and social service positions (the B.S.W represents the point of admission into the Ordre desTravailleurs Sociaux et desThérapeutes Conjugués et Familiaux du Québec (OTSTCFQ) and the Canadian Association of SocialWorkers);
2. prepares students for entry into specialized professional studies at the graduate level

A 90-credit program is offered to students entering from CEGEP or equivalent, students who transfer from within McGill or other universities, and mature students. For more information, refer to the School's Website

For those wanting to practice social work in Quebec, please note that Quebec requires candidates seeking admission to the professional social work order of Quebec (O.S.T.C.F.Q) to demonstrate working knowledge of the French language. For more information, please see Working in Quebec page. Applications are encouraged from persons of diverse backgrounds, including Aboriginal Peoples, members of minority groups, and persons with a disability. The objectives of the B.S.W program are to provide an academic environment where students can develop:

- integrated social work knowledge pertaining to history, theory, research, practice modalities, and policies that influence the delivery of health and social services;
- professional skills in well-established methods of practice with individuals, families, and groups in communities and organizations;
- understanding of the factors, processes, and forces that form and influence social policy in Canada, and the skills to work toward policy improvement.

Field Practicum

Students in the three-year B.S.W. program complete a field placement during their second and third years, 16 hours per week, in different settings each year. Students must have completed a minimum of 24 credits of the 90 credits of study before commencing their second year placement, and 54 credits before commencing their third-year placement.

Grading Policy

Students are required to obtain a grade of C or better in all of their Social Work courses (63-66 credits) and also in their 18 social science credits. If students receive a D in any of these courses, they must take additional courses to satisfy the program requirement. Only in an elective course will the grade of D be counted for credit.

Prerequisite for Admission to McGill's Master of Social Work (M.S.W)

Please note that, although not a requirement for the three-year B.S.W. program, a course in statistics is a prerequisite for admission into the M.S.W. program at McGill. Students in the three-year B.S.W. program who have not previously completed a course in statistics and are planning on completing a graduate degree are, therefore, strongly encouraged to take a statistics course during their undergraduate studies.

10.39.2 About Sociology

Sociology is commonly defined as the scientific study of societies. It offers the student an educational experience which is both intellectually rewarding and practically useful as a preparation for future career opportunities. It provides the student with the theoretical and analytical tools to better understand the complex social forces which affect our lives, contributing in this way to personal enrichment and more effective citizenship. It is also a valuable preparation for advanced study in the social sciences, as well as for careers in management; educational, health and health-related areas; social work and communications in both the public sector and private industry.

The Department offers a Minor Concentration, a Major Concentration, an Honours, and a Joint Honours program in Sociology. Although a student from outside the Department may take courses in the Department without having taken SOCI 210 Sociological Perspectives (except where noted otherwise), the course is recommended. The purpose of the Minor Concentration is to give the student a basic understanding of the field of Sociology. The Major Concentration will provide a more comprehensive coverage of the field. The purpose of the Honours program is to permit a student to study the field in depth, and to do an Honours Project—a research paper under the supervision of a faculty member whose topic and supervisor are chosen by mutual agreement between the student and the professor.

10.40.2 About World Islamic and Middle East Studies

The undergraduate programs World Islamic and Middle East Studies offer students language-based interdisciplinary training about the Islamic world. Combining humanities and social-science approaches, the programs introduce students to the traditions and social life of Muslims and the non-Muslims interacting with them in different times and places, including but not limited to the Middle East.

Students in the programs learn about the complexity and variety of Muslim societies and cultures across the world, paying attention to regional specificities but also becoming aware of past and present global linkages. With solid grounding in language training (Arabic, Persian, Turkish, or Urdu), students take courses on history, law, philosophy, art, literature, political science, history of science in Islamic societies, and anthropology, gaining knowledge about the contemporary Islamic world and the traditions that are important for understanding it.

The Institute of Islamic Studies offers:

- major and minor concentrations;
- honours and joint honours programs for students wishing to pursue more in-depth studies; and
- language minors in Arabic, Persian, Turkish, and Urdu for students interested in language training.

To register for a WIMES program, you must have been offered admission into a bachelor's program at McGill; for more information, please refer to www.mcgill.ca/applying

World Islamic and Middle East Studies is an interdisciplinary program focusing on Muslim cultures and societies both past and present. Recognizing the variety of approaches within Islam, its global reach, as well as its regional specificities, and that of the Middle East in particular, the program aims at providing students with training in the textual traditions and social life of Muslims across different times and places.

For information about instructors and course descriptions, visit the program website at <http://www.mcgill.ca/islamicstudies/>.

Students wishing to study at the Honours level in two disciplines can combine Joint Honours program components in two Arts disciplines. For a list of available Joint Honours programs, see "View of Programs Offered" and "Joint Honours Programs."

Joint Honours students should consult an adviser in each department to discuss their course selection and their interdisciplinary research project (if applicable).
